dedication

Your paddle, your jokes, your lectures on the Civil War, your endless "service projects", your innumerable laps around the gym—these will not be forgotten. Frightened Sophomores walked into room 108, but now as we leave, there is nothing but respect and admiration. As a remembrance of our appreciation for your guidance and never-ending struggles for Senior privileges, the Class of 1967 now dedicates the LANCE to you—

SENIORS

It is the close of a year
And the beginning of a lifetime
One can remember, contemplate
But never relive.
Behind us stands twelve vivid years
A time of growth,
Of learning, of maturity.
Let us gaze backward just once again,
Lest we not profit by the experience.

It was a day so long ago in experiences, yet so close in years. Enveloped in childish fears one proceeds grasping the hand of the adult world for security. The day begins a new world to a child, it closes a conformity to a much more mature individual. Education has begun. Time passes as one matures and high school begins, leaving behind the world of elementary school.

"Lowly freshman", a title given to besmirch the new initiate, yet received with a ecstasy never before experienced. The hallowed halls become huge, omnipotent as each freshman wanders about in search for a homeroom.

As the year proceeds, maturity begins to take hold to prepare one for the sophomore year. Then it comes. An era in which one is neither a "lowly freshman" or responsible junior. Suffering from the pains of being in between, the sophomore ambles onward to the advent of the junior year.

At last—the year of class rings, preparatory college tests, and the Junior-Senior. Each day comes and goes offering a variety of experiences. Class meetings pass as epitaph to the momentous events. Midyear brings the rings as each junior floats from class to class proudly wearing the emblem of his high school years. Suddenly May descends with a rush of Junior-Senior activities. The week is spent working, yet the ultimate glory comes as each senior enters and proceeds down the ramp in awesome rapture. Never before has one night been so beautiful, so perfect. Altogether too quickly it ends, and thus concludes the junior year.

With triumphant victory and melancholy reminiscence one enters the final year. Together as a class for the first time, the Seniors reign gloriously, for now the cliques are less evident and unity prevails. Together you initiate new freshmen, together you march down the aisles in assembly together you cheer longest and loudest, spurring the team to victory, together you construct a book of memories, a LANCE; together you plan activities; Homecoming, programs, dances, together you work and enjoy leisure, study and cut classes, voice opinions and remain silent, together you are the best Senior class that has ever been. Yet now is the time for individualism. Future plans are made, all branching into separate directions. Together and alone you stand as Seniors. Together and alone you progress through the turmoil of graduation plans, invitations, robes, a class gift, Senior exemptions, and the special joy of attending the Junior-Senior. Together you descend the aisle of the auditorium at graduation, and alone you receive your diploma. The numerous frivolities of youth have come to a close and one must proceed to the world of adulthood a fuller person for the experience which lay behind.

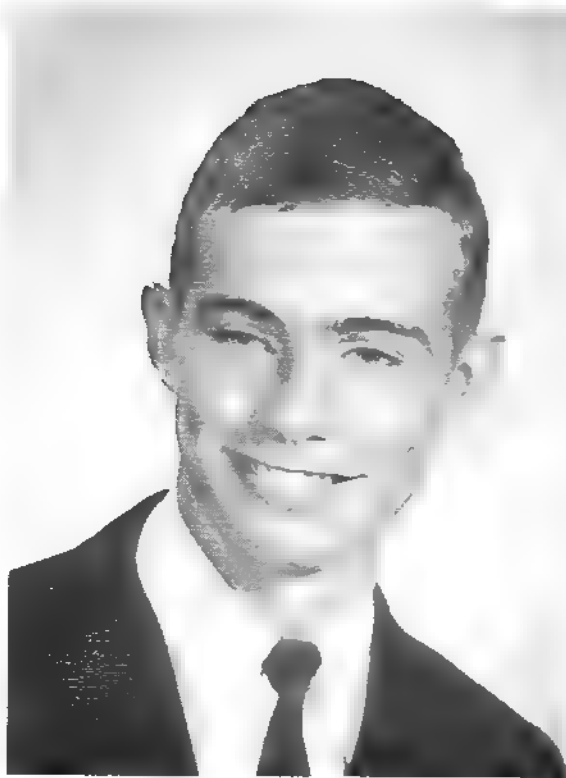

Thus it began,
Thus it closes.
Years well spent,
Well remembered.
We must look back just once
Before we look forward
To the never ending quest of life.

the lance staff

From locker to locker the news was passed. Students eagerly paid their five dollars to the LANCE staff criers. Sports, clubs and classes claimed their pages in the thickening one-hundred and twelve page book. Photographers captured student and administrative life by the water fountain, behind desks, and in the library. Then, off to press went the pictures and long lists of identifying names.

Now the ink has dried; the pages have been numbered; and, the LANCE is ready for you.

WE HOPE YOU LIKE IT!

student council

Our Student Council is organized so that each class holds an office on the executive council and a representative.

Each year our Student Council has taken greater strides in actual government of our school. This year its main objective was to better the relationship between upper classmen and lower classmen. The Student Council helped make our school better known on a state level. Bill Blue ran for President of the North Carolina Student Council. This was the first time any student from our school had run for a state office in the Student Council.

This year's Council showed us how the student body can work better as a whole when under the leadership of a well-organized student government.

Beta Club

The Beta Club is a society honoring students for scholastic achievements, character and leadership. Membership in the Beta Club is selective. A student must maintain a "B" average and be recommended by all his teachers.

Not content to be merely academic, the club sponsors profitable activities to provide a scholarship annually. This award is given to an able student in financial need.

Beta Club members are expected to be interested and responsible members of their school and community. Honesty, justice, service, cooperation, responsibility, industriousness, humility and charity are enumerated in the Beta Creed as essential qualities. The Beta Club helps its members accept the challenge of the modern world by contributing their talents to its future.

knight's herald

The school newspaper, The Knights Herald, is published for the benefit of the faculty and student body. It reports the activities of the schools clubs and contains features such as editorials, essays, and poetry by the students. The Knights Herald gives the students a summary of past activities and tells them of the upcoming events.

This year under the competent leadership of Mr. Lynn the school newspaper has appeared more regularly and has been more interesting than newspapers in the past. The well organized and efficient editorial staff has put forth a tremendous amount of effort and has succeeded in keeping the student body up to date with the news of East Southern Pines High School.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club is a service club of volunteer students working for the mutual benefit of themselves and their school. The service of the library assistants is not intended to exploit the pupil or expect him to perform the professional services of a trained librarian, nor should he be expected to take the place of paid clerical assistants. The general purpose of the club is to help provide increased library services.

Through work experiences, assistants have opportunities to develop leadership, to explore books, to develop a broader understanding of people, to explore librarianship as a career and to experience that satisfaction inherent in service to teachers and fellow students. An assistant must be interested in books and people and be courteous and dependable.

french club

The French Club is a newly developed organization in East Southern Pines High School. It was started especially for all those in the French department. Under the guidance of Mr. Bernard Zieverink, the French Club has progressed and expanded greatly. It holds the interest of the old club members and warmly welcome the new. Seeing that the French Club has increased so much in number, French I students hold separate meetings from the older club members. The French I students will be taking up the French national anthem and will be studying Bonjour - a magazine with special exercises for students. The meetings are for the purpose of creative learning and understanding of the French. The club also offers picnics and parties, but its main purpose is to teach its members interesting facts and the enjoyment of French.

Drama club

Curtain! And the curtain rose on a new Drama Club for 1967. Open to all interested high school students, the club is an outlet for creativity and expression. The club members' primary aim is to become aware of and to appreciate all facets of modern theatre through observation and production.

This year's calendar includes monthly trips to Fayetteville where a professional company presents serious and light drama, a spring production of three one-act plays, and the sponsorship of the Nicolo Marionettes, a unique, but popular form of theatre.

"The Players of the Pines" are established—they're working—and they are eager to perform on a small scale until they are ready to undertake a major play or operetta.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organized group of girls striving to enrich the school, the community, and the state in activities performed yearly. They are girls interested in furthering their knowledge in Home Economics.

The purpose of F.H.A. is to promote an appreciation for home-making, encourage democracy, promote good will, develop leadership, promote group recreation and work for good family life.

Each year a National Program of Work is developed by Future Homemakers to serve as a guide to state associations and local chapters. One of the programs for this year is entitled, "Jobs, Career, and You." The project is designed to encourage youth to establish purposeful goals and to work toward these goals through job training and career choices. This coming year, F.H.A. will strive to show its members the importance of a career and also the importance of being an individual.

spanish club

This year the Spanish Club is composed of about forty-five students and is advised by Miss Mary Ann Marks. Miss Marks was graduated from Duke University and is now teaching Spanish at our school.

The club has big plans for a Christmas dance this year and also has plans to dine out of town at a Spanish restaurant. Miss Marks is to show the Spanish Club slides that she took while she was in Spain.

The 1966-1967 Spanish Club has shown more interest and desire to learn about their Spanish neighbors than any other previous one. We're sure that this year's club will prove to be one of the best.

social science seminar

The Social Science Seminar is a relatively new club which was organized last year by Mr. David Page. The club got off to a great start this year with an enthusiastic president, Sallie Springer. The Social Science Seminar promotes interest in all phases of the social sciences, and today's world. The seminar broadens the scope of the sciences and studies important to man, his environment, and his world. This club stimulates the student's interest in sociology, economics, political science and history, past and present, by controversial discussions, guest speakers and outside personal research. By taking a genuine interest in this club, the seminar students are building within themselves and their fellow students the ideals which will make the responsible citizens of tomorrow.

The Science Club is another one of East Southern Pines High's new clubs. It is composed of a large group of intellectual and scientifically minded students. The club has as their advisor this year Col. Daniel Adams, who has worked hard to get the club on its feet and promote interest in the club. The Science Club's purposes are to explore and discover in the field of all the sciences, to present a challenge to the inquisitive minds of the students and to introduce and familiarize prospective scientists to the many fields of science which they might enter. The Science Club is a wonderful opportunity for those who take a genuine and questioning interest in life and the world around us.

VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CLUB

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) is composed of high school students engaged in Trade and Industrial Education throughout the United States. VICA emphasizes educational, vocational, social and recreational activities. Its members develop traits of leadership, fellowship, personality, self-confidence and poise. VICA members are students in Industrial Cooperation Training and in Trade Preparatory programs.

The programs are directed by Col. Davis. The activities of VICA members help them toward stimulating proper attitudes, building character and in developing those behavior patterns which are vital to one's being a good citizen and an asset to his home, his school, and his community.

Although the Pep Club is only in its third year of existence, the amount of spirit has more than tripled over these three years.

Among the duties of each Pep Club member is to attend each game and help the cheerleaders in arousing spirit. Each member is expected to help decorate the field for home games. The members are chosen by each cheerleader and then voted on by the cheerleading squad.

This year's Pep Club has shown outstanding spirit at each and every game. They helped raise money for the homecoming dance by sponsoring a bake sale. Because of the school spirit shown, we feel sure that this year's Pep Club was the best yet.

To tell the story of the Key Club is not to set forth a paper organization. The essence of every club is what its members hope to accomplish - and its strength is what they do.

The Key Club is a service club for high school boys which is sponsored by Kiwanis International and meets with the approval of the school principal. The Key Club is also international in scope with more than 2,400 clubs throughout the United States and Canada.

The heart of Key Clubbing lies in the individual club and in its initiative and resourcefulness in meeting the needs of its school and community. Annual conventions enable club delegates to formulate programs, as well as give participants a valuable fund of knowledge on democratic procedure, self-expression and self-confidence.

The backbone of every club is a purposeful service program, one that benefits the school, the community, the sponsoring Kiwanis Club, the "world to tomorrow", and its own members.

Under the direction of Coach Smith, this year's organization is composed of high school students who have represented their school in athletic events and have lettered in at least one. The club has been formed in order to create good sportsmanship, an interest in sports offered, and to uphold the set standards and well-earned reputation of the Knight's athletics.

Each year the Monogram Club sponsors a kick-off banquet. Toward the end of the school year, the Monogram Club, along with the Rotary Club, gives a trophy for the "Most Valuable Player."

An ever-increasing number of teachers is in great demand. A need for better qualified and educated people is constantly stressed. The question is where will we find our future teachers of America? What steps will be taken to insure us of better future teachers? The answer is being started early in your own school. The answer at our school is the F.T.A. We have already begun to insure better teachers for the future with the organization known as Future Teachers of America.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Julianna White, the club tries to prepare themselves to meet the problems of better education in the future. This year the club plans to take field trips and also will sponsor another Hootenanny.

Band

The East Southern Pines High School Band is an important institution in our school and in our area, for, up until two years ago, it was the only band in Moore County. Now your band is turning over new leaves under the excellent leadership of Mr. Edward Rodgers. The entire student body agrees that this year's band has been a major factor in our tremendous amount of school spirit and interest. The band provides the musical atmosphere at all of our home games and gives a big boost to our pep rallies. At Christmas they, along with the Glee Club, gave a beautiful concert before the closing of school and they plan to give one again in the spring. We take much pride in this band that has given our school so much.

s.p. Blue knights

Harry Jones—All Conference

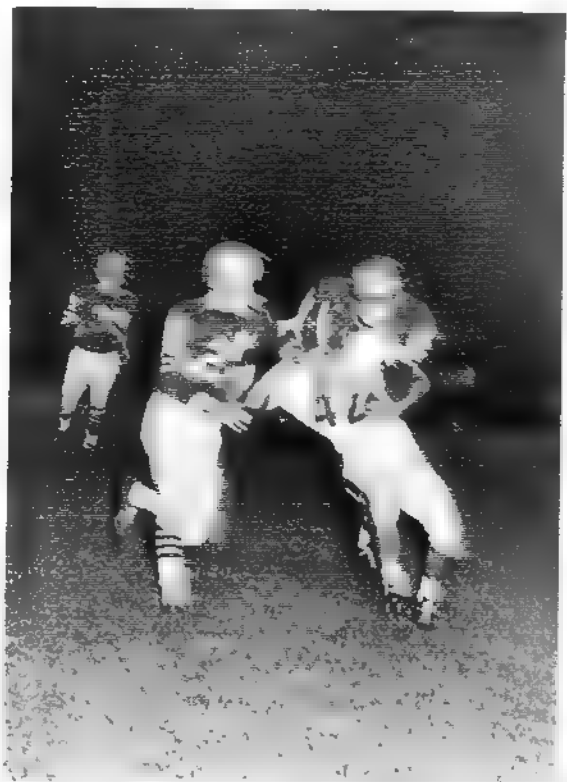

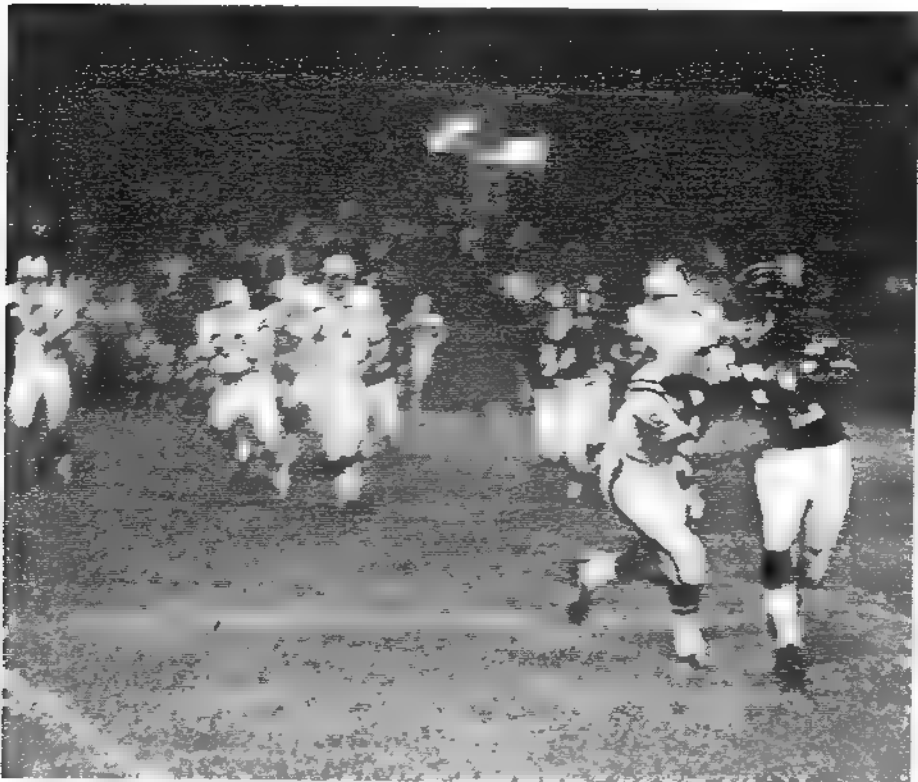

Jerry Monroe—All Conference

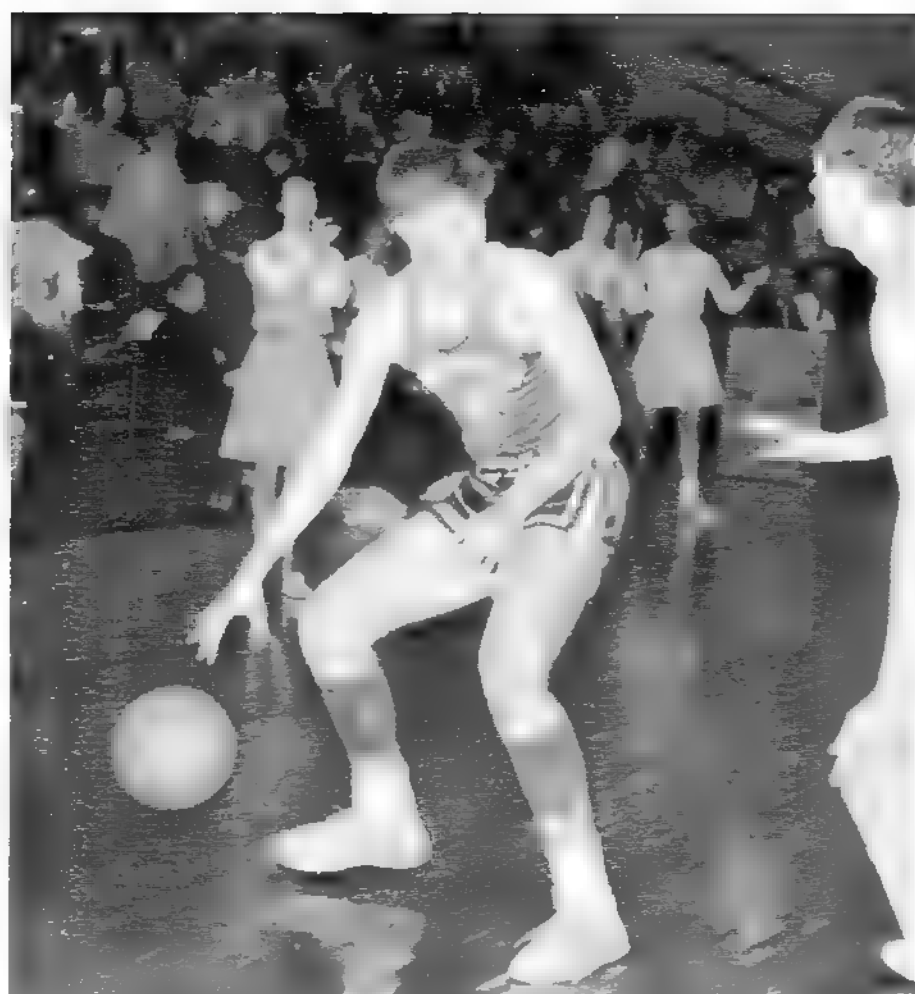

Billy Strickland—Honorable Mention

The Blue Knights' football team did very well in the tough Central Tarheel Conference this year, and posted a 5-5 won-lost record. Head coach, Joe Smith, predicted a mediocre season during a rebuilding year before the season, but the Knights upset highly regarded East Montgomery 14-0 and fought Wadesboro down to the gun in a 13-19 loss. These two games and the last game of the season with arch-rival Aberdeen were the key games of the season. They were edged out 13-7 by Aberdeen in the last minute of the game on a touchdown, but the Blue Knights fought a hard game in losing. This team and the school had more spirit than any other team has had in years, and this contributed to its successful season. The team's play was sparked by All-Conference selections Harry Jones and Jerry Monroe and Honorable Mention Billy Strickland. Others who were outstanding were Johnny Rowe, Mike Warlick, Jerry Wilson, Billy Little, and George Threadgill. The Knights lose only five lettermen to graduation this year and should have a fine team next year. This is one of the greatest teams to come out of SPHS in spirit and the desire to win.

BOYS' Basketball

The 1966-1967 Blue Knights' Basketball team, under the direction of Coach David Page, experienced a rough season in its second year of participation in this tough Central-Tarheel 2-A Conference. The squad was led by Senior Co-Captain Jerry Wilson, whose 15-point scoring average ranked among the leading scorers in the conference. Rounding out the starting five are Co-Captain Todd Llewellyn, Steve Hassenfelt, Jock Pottle and Billy Strickland. The team played very aggressive basketball, but lack of experience caused numerous mistakes, which in turn resulted in some disappointing losses. The season was highlighted by great team efforts over the Siler City Phantoms. KEEP THE FAITH BABY!

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

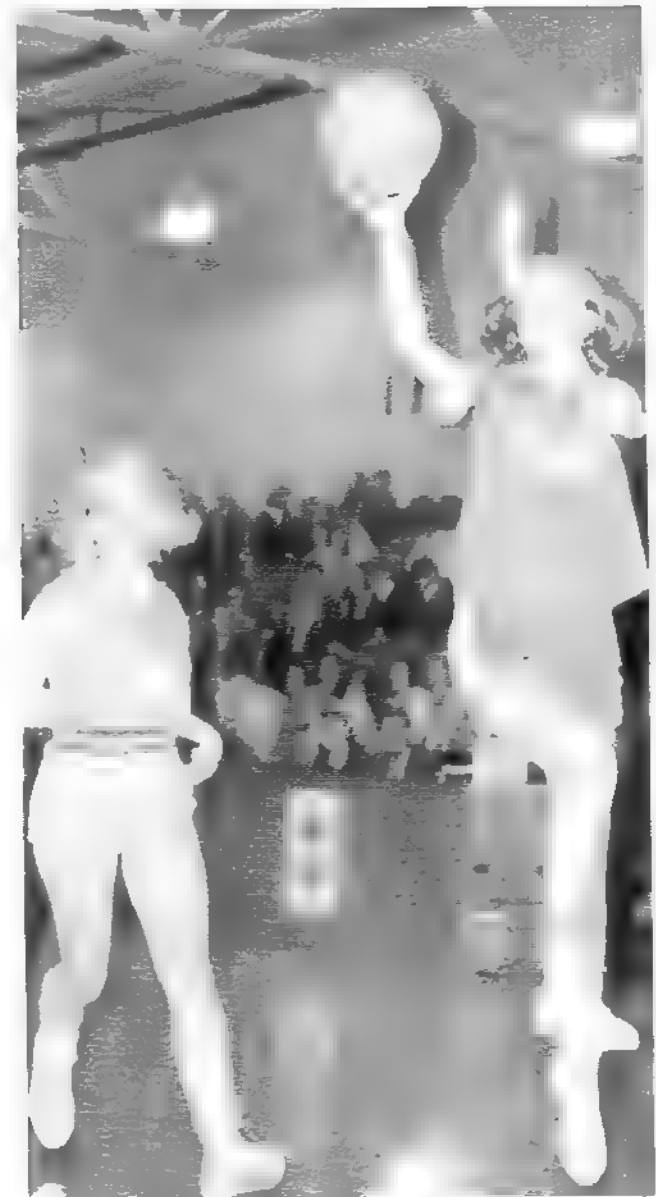

The Blue Knights' girls team, under Coach Vernon Crumpler, had one of the finest teams that S.P.H. has had in many years. They racked up 6 wins against 15 losses including victories over last year's champs, Wadesboro, and non-conference opponent Hamlet. The team was sparked by All-Conference selection Cathy MacPherson who possessed a remarkable shooting ability. Julie Johnson and Cheryl Thompson contributed also with their fine defensive play and rebounding. Wanda Campbell, Libby Daughtry, and Susan Bigbee round out the starting six. The season was climaxed by a heart breaking one-point loss in the annual tournament to the eventual winners, Aberdeen. This team was a great one in that it had excellent spirit, hustle, and leadership and all of the members will be back next year to win...

The 1966 baseball team, under the direction of Coach J. H. Smith, put forth a fine effort in winning three games, and losing seven with three of these by only one run. The highlight of the season came in the next-to-the-last game when Southern Pines defeated its arch-rival Aberdeen 8-3, for the fourth straight year. Cullen Fisher, who received All-Conference honors, led the team in hitting along with Jerry Wilson and Billy Little. Johnny Rowe, who was All-Conference Honorable Mention was the workhorse on the pitching staff winning all three of our games. The Blue Knights have six lettermen out of ten returning this year and we all look to the team for another fine season.

The 1966 tennis team, coached by Vernon Crumpler, did an exceptional job in winning 8 matches and losing 4. The Knights only losses were against Asheboro and Fayetteville, both classified as 4-A schools.

Some key victories came against East Montgomery, Seventy-First, and Pinehurst. The team was dominated by seniors with Jeff Donovan playing in the number one spot and Larry Daugherty in the number two spot. Rounding out the top six were Eddie Bridges, Robin Grover, Eddie Allen, and Will Richards, in that order. We have three lettermen returning this year and we look for another finesquad.

This year's golf team posted an excellent 13-3 won-lost record under the direction of Coach Don Moore for the 1966 season. Mike Cheek, a senior, played in the number one spot and led the team in its fine season. He placed second in the State High School Golf Tournament, the best of any golfer that has come out of Southern Pines High School. Rounding out the top six were Peter Marco, number two man, Clyde Mangum, number three, Dempsey Bailey number four, and Jeff Stuart and Jay Carter number five and six respectively. Coach Moore looks to another fine 1967 season with the return of four out of the six lettermen.

The 1966 track team proved to be the track powerhouse in the Central Tarheel Conference and in the eastern part of the state in its classification. The Knights, coached by John Williams, won the annual Conference meet, taking the crown from Rohanen, and also won the annual Moore County meet for the fourth straight year. The team posted a 5-2 record for the regular season losing only to Chapel Hill and Carolina Military Academy. The Knights traveled to the annual Duke-Durham Relays in Durham, and came back with second place out of over thirty schools in N. C., S. C., and Virginia.

The thinclads placed six boys on the All-Conference team along with our 880 yard relay team. Some outstanding performers were Harry Webb, Peter Pezzi, Greg Paules, Mike Buchholz, Tommy Richardson, and Phillip Wicker. This was the greatest track team of Southern Pines...

Tommy Richardson—All Conference

The Blue Knight Cross Country Team completed a very successful season with an outstanding 7-1 record. They placed fifth in the State Cross Country Meet out of over 30 schools to highlight their fine season. The Knight thinclads competed against only class 4-A schools the whole season which shows what a fine team we had. Key victories were over Wilmington, Fayetteville, and Chapel Hill. The top runners were Terry Revell, David Baldwin, Ricky McDonald, Vaughn Lamb, and David Howard in that order. Next year all but one of Coach David Page's thinclads will return in quest of the state championship. Look for the Blue Knights to be a big powerhouse in the state next year.

This year a high school Glee Club was formed. It's increased from its previous size about three times. With a total of 68 members, it is one of the largest high school Glee Clubs in the history of the school.

This year we hope to have the best club ever. We feel that with the help and co-operation of all the members, it will be possible. We know that with our director's help and guidance, the East Southern Pines Glee Club of 1966-67 will make a name for her school.
